

Santa and Elf Silverware Sleeves

Need a cute way to dress up your tableware for a holiday party? Invite Santa and his elves to the table with these delightful silverware sleeves. You can even get the kids to make them... all it takes is some foam craft sheets, markers, and paint. Plus, you can reuse them year after year!

Shop at Dollar Tree – Here's What You'll Need:

- 4x6" Foam Sheets
- Black Marker
- White Paint (we used correction fluid)
- Glitter Glue
- Sequins
- Glue or Tape
- Ruler

Easy Step-by-Step Directions:

1. On each foam sheet, draw and color in a wide belt with the black marker. Use the white paint to create the buckle in the center of the sheet.
2. Once the paint is dry, cover the buckle with silver or gold glitter glue. Glue on sequins for coat buttons.
3. Once everything is dry, fold into thirds and glue or tape in place.
4. Fold your napkin to fit inside, slip in your silverware, and set the table!
